NOT A POLITICAL QUESTION.

The $50,000,000 road bond proposition, to which the voters of the state are asked to give their approval at the election on November 5, is not a political question. It is being advocated by the members of both the leading parties because the proper attitude of the people on the question is essential to the future development of our improved highway system.
That such a development of a means of intercommunication between all parts of the commonwealth is of vital importance to the welfare, progress and prosperity of the people, is no longer a subject of argument. Every observing citizen has noted the advantages that have accrued to those sections provided with good roads.
Land values have increased, market facilities have multiplied and the comforts and conveniences incident to easier and quicker means of communication have contributed in very large measure to the happiness and contentment of the people.

Only parts of the 67 counties of the state have as yet been able to realize the benefits of improved roads, which should be the privilege of all.
As a matter of fairness alone every community having the desire to secure better roads and the energy to make efforts in that direction ought to have the means and facilities with which to accomplish this result. Unless the bond issue is authorized by the voters the road building program, for all practical purposes, will cease for two years, the time that will become available from year to year from automobile licenses being absorbed by maintenance and replacement of roads already built. Such other funds as are applicable to new roads will be exhausted by the end of the present fiscal year, June 30, next.

If the present bond issue is rejected by the voters another proposition of the same kind cannot be submitted for five years, under the provision of the Constitution relating to amendments. That means Pennsylvania will be in the meantime lamentably left behind other and more progressive states in the matter of providing good roads for the use of its citizens.

In this part of Fayette county refusal to approve the amendment will result in the completion of the Connellsville-to-Farmington road being delayed indefinitely. Similar projects elsewhere in this section cannot be started and many communities will continue to be isolated by mud roads during about half of the year.
If the voters in all parts of the county were as keenly alive to the importance of approving the proposed amendment as are the farmers in the townships traversed by the Connelsville-to-Farmington road, there would be no doubt of the result of subsequent election of the question to the voters.
To those progressive citizens supporting the bond issue is not a matter of politics; it is good business and sound common sense.

DIFFUSING PROSPERITY WITH CHEERFULNESS.

Prognosticators of business prosperity usually take facts of economics as the basis of their forecasts. Bank clearings, freight car loadings, building permits and similar information that can be reduced to statistical form are regarded as the signs by which to indicate the trend in business. While this method of making prophecies may, and often is, very accurate it does not take into account the human element as an influence in shaping prosperity. This is perhaps true because prophets as a class have not always had the reputation of being extraordinary careful and optimistic in their forecasts. A notable exception has been provided, however, in the person of Charles M.
Schwab who a day or so ago stated a rule which, if observed by all people would cause all the dry-as-dust statistics and other formulas of the forecasters to be permanently discarded as unreliable. Mr. Schwab's rule was simply that if the people were happy, contented and hopeful, "prosperity and everything that is good will follow."

"Go through life smiling and having a good time," said Mr. Schwab. "See the bright side of things, be optimistic. No good judgment ever comes unless you are in a happy frame of mind. Your great troubles that you magnify disappear shortly like trifles in the air, and you don't think of them in the years to come."

"Make friends because you are a real fellow yourself, and not because you try to make believe. Live up to the maxim of what a good fellow is.
Above all, be honest, straight forward and loyal to your friends, loyal to your country, loyal to your firm and those associated with you."

"Put your heart in your business, carry your head in the air; believe in this country and believe in its development; believe in its people

U. S. Is Preparing For the Next War

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHAPTER III.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The new military policy of the United States, designed to prepare the nation for war, may eventually prove to be one of the greatest effective means of bringing about world peace, high officers of the War Department declared to the United Press.

Under the plans of the War Department to prepare the country for war, to train a great citizen army, only a defensive war can be fought by the United States, it is admitted.

If the American plan for building a great citizen army succeeds, other great nations may copy the military policy of the United States, voluntarily or because of a demand from their peoples, leaders of the War Department believe. For, after all, they say, the plain people all over the world want armies only for defensive purposes, and if each nation had truly only a defensive army, this would be a great step towards world peace.

The little country of Switzerland has a military system which is the nearest approach to that of the United States in trying to build up. And while Switzerland is never thought of as a menace to world peace, other nations do not seem prone to attack Switzerland. The Swiss, according to military information here, are able to mobilize about 2,000,000 men and officers point out that in the World War the Germans did not attack Switzerand their integrity; believe in the maxim that I have given you that this country is going to be the material workshop of the world; believe in the industries of the country; back them with your judgment and back them with your persuasion.

"Be fearless as to what you are going to do, and happiness will come to you, prosperity will come to the country, and you will do your part in building this nation of ours, greater than any other nation in the world."

Hard-headed business men may not agree with Mr. Schwab's policy for prosperity but the fact that he has himself practiced it throughout his life and achieved a phenomenal success, makes it pertinent to suggest that if business men would warm up a bit in their relations to their fellows the way through life would be eased for all of us and the prosperity Mr. Schwab describes would be more widely diffused.

A Costly Plaything

Charlesburg Telegram

The interesting information is given in the 1923 official report of the League of Nations that the institution will cost this year around five and a quarter million dollars.

The league is now employing a total of 314 persons. The head secretary receives $20,000 per annum. The secretary's official staff costs $1,750,- 000 yearly.

In view of the fact that the league persistently fails to do anything whenever a war crisis arises in Europe, the men annually upon and the effort exerted by the league personnel seem to represent a great waste.

Europe would do well to shut the league up on an extended vacation and divert this money wasted for its upkeep into payments on some of its honest debts.

land, but Belgium.

The National Defense Act, upon which is based the new military policy of the United States, is a compromise between two schools of military thought, the first of which demanded a great standing, professional army of at least 500,000 men and the second that declared the United States should have universal military training, as do most of the world military powers.

The last mobilization next year is expected by the War Department here to show a total of about 250,000 officers and men of the regular army stationed in the United States, and of the National Guard, a military force only slightly greater than that which America possessed when it entered the World War.

In addition, this mobilization will show, according to expectation here, about 70,000 Reserve officers, the nucleus of the 200,000 Reserve officers that would be needed for the first mobilization of 2,000,000 in a great war.
These 70,000 Reserve officers are scattered all over the country, in the cities, towns, villages and hamlets.
Each officer is registered with the War Department. They are selecting from their own home communities the men whom they can depend upon to follow them to war. Throughout the United States these officers will report the state of their skeleton organizations for war to Commander-in-Chief Pershing.

Less Hard Work

Pennsylvania Farmer.

The fact that there have been fewer laborers employed upon the farms of America the past year than ever before, while production has been normal or above, proves conclusively that farmers are using labor-saving machinery. It was observed long ago that "Necessity is the mother of invention," and it is equally true that conditions often force the adoption of different and better methods. The use of machinery in the industries was not usually the result of labor shortage but men who figured closely

Has turned farmers' minds towards the vast number of machines and im-human hands, both on the farm and in the home, and are finding the results highly satisfactory. The labor shortage may turn out to be a bless-

Just Folks

Edgar A. Guest.

THE BUNKER AND THE LIGHTHOUSE.

We stood a moment at the water's edge And saw a rugged house far at sea Warning the pilots of a dangerous coast
And then this western banker and to me.

"A lighthouse has a curious appeal Because there's something noble in its form.
A rugged and a dignity I feel.
It never blinks or enlarges in a storm.

"The fury of the wind can move it Not
Into the night it sends its light afar.
A few brave men, among our changing lot,
In times of stress much like a light-houseer.

"I know, I feel my chest, one or two Who brave the storms unmoved, erect and steady.
Holding 'em off the rocks at all the fates may be.
Strong, rugged noble characters, and so on."

And as we turned to leave, and looked on the sea
The sea was angry waters break and roll Against the lighthouse far away from shore
I thought I, this banker has a post a few.

Straight Box Coat Is One of Fall Fashions

When in doubt choose a suit with a straight box coat and go on your way toward winter rejoicing, for box coats of varied lengths are fashion's favorites. They are approved in all sorts of suitings and hosiery are for fall made of a ribbed material. It has three-quarter length sleeves, small patch pockets and fastens with a narrow silk tie at the throat. An overblouse of figured crepe de chine is worn with the plain, straight skirt.

Wrap-Around Stays
The Parisienne has definitely decided that there shall be no return to the regular corset, the sort which is heavily boned. She prefers a wrap around, and some of the step in front have no bones whatever but only elastic. How to achieve the small and normal waistline without a regular corset is now the designer's problem.

Lovely Draperies
Among the lovely materials for draperies now shown in the shops, Quaker craft net in colors is worthy of special mention. It is durable, hangs in graceful lines and gives opportunity for pleasing color effects. Green and blue drapes are also to be had in a splendid range of colors.

Mothers!! Apply Common Sense

THIS is the era of the prevention of disease and suffering. It is not until a child is actually sick that the mother is called upon to administer medicine. The crowded hospital is a place where a child is often kept for weeks, and the mother is often called upon to administer medicine. Three Rules of Health 1. Eat a bottle of Syrup Pepsin at a dinner party, and always keep a bottle in the family medicine chest. 2. Give it to a child when it is sick, and it will be well in an hour. 3. Give it to a child when it is healthy, and it will be healthy for ever.

A Great Family Favorite
It may be difficult to decide just what medicine to use out of the many that are offered, but it would not be if you knew the facts. There are medicines which are purgatives and others which are not. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative, a family favorite, and a compound of Egyptian...

Superpower May Shortly Give Every Man a Job Every Day

"The farm has its dull season. That is the time for the farmer to help produce the things he needs to till the soil."

"The factory also has its dull season. That is the time for the workman to go out to the land to help produce food."

It is Henry Ford talking. Henry Ford, not as a presidential candidate, present or prospective, but as an engineer who does not like to see machinery idle.

What he suggests—and he is by no means the first man to suggest it—is a proposal that has been hobnobbing constantly of late. Its sponsors see in it a new way of dealing with the situation in employment, a new method of filling in the gaps, providing jobs that keep men busy the year round.

The country, as they see it, should be dotted with small factories near the farms. There would be workmen turning back to the factories when the crops were in. Something of the old balance between farm and workshop—howled over and rolled flat by the Machine Age—would be put back on the map again.

It is an interesting theory, with a good deal of common sense behind it. That theory is, however, something that has been needed to add the touch of practicality. That something may be superpower, says Charles Merz in Collier's.

Briefly, superpower is a vast progressive program for developing electric power in quantities hitherto undreamed of. In sections where now power can profitably be put to work the country's rivers—now clanking away in unprofitable foam—will be harnessed to turbines. Coal, burned at the mouth of the mines, will also produce power wherever there is sufficient water for condensation. Power from both sources will be "tied in" and sent along transmission lines at new voltages which the engineers are beginning to control. Gradually the whole country will be interlocked with trunk lines of electrical energy ready to be tapped.

Wandering Workers.

That is superpower. Its hearing on the problems of the shop, the overcrowded city, and the undernourished country town have been discussed in Collier's. Here another chapter starts. For if anything supplies the missing link in this prospective farm-and-factory project it is superpower.

At least two facts are clear: First, that there is a definite engineering development, which makes its appeal on a sound economic basis.

Second, that there is nothing rigid or inflexible in the superpower program; nothing that needs to be pushed into every out-of-the-way corner of the country before its value starts to count. This is no millennium. It is a working schedule. In fact, it is already at work on the Pacific Coast, in the Middle West, and some of the Southeastern States.

How will superpower aid the farm-and-factory combination?

Well, there is a farm in South Dakota. It produces wheat and wool and hides. It produces more wheat and wool and hides than it can ever use—which is fortunate for those of us who live in twenty-story buildings and never see a barn.

But this farm in South Dakota does not stop at that. Once in the business of shipping, it ships everything. All its wheat, all its wool, and all its hides go off on pilgrimages a thousand miles later they come home again. They have changed their form. The wheat is flour now. The wool—a winter suit. The hides—tan shoes to crack their way up church aisles Sunday mornings.

Cost of Long-Distance Trading. Ignore for the moment what this long-distance trading costs the South Dakota farm in toll. Note that it has shipped away from itself the whole process of manufacture, and with that process jobs.

Why? For one reason because factories cluster around the sources of power, or the city cross-roads to which power can easily be brought, like flies around a sugar bowl. Flour, cloth, and leather goods are no complicated arts requiring intricate machinery. In a factory, the power is the still factor.

But power is another matter. The villages around that farm in South Dakota have no natural resources in the way of power. They cannot burn coal efficiently enough in little small-scale furnaces, to make production pay. But bring power to the scene—power already manufactured in some great central station six or seven hundred miles away—and the situation changes. Assume that power enough is readily available wherever it is wanted, and of its own accord, without artificial stimulation, a fair share of industry may choose to flow in the direction of a farm-and-factory combination, rather than submit forever to the inefficiency of seasonal employment in the cities, periods of slack labor on the farms.

There is nothing that need stop the flow in that direction. Tractors and farm machinery, co-operative methods of production, can materially reduce the time needed to sow crops and reap them. Ford for instance, measures in thirty days a year the work on a 1,000-acre farm.

Now, the advantages which even a partial realization of this program would bring the country in the matter of jobs for the year round are so clear as to be unimpeachable.

As a nation we have few more stubborn problems on our hands than seasonal employment. How stubborn, we have just begun to realize. For, though we have always been aware of fluctuations in employment, aware, for instance, that building construction slows up on days of heavy rain and that hoeing on the farms is confined to fair weather, it has remained for a group of engineers, representing the Federal Engineering Societies of America, to define the real limits of the problem.

In the coal mines, these engineers have found, the workmen are regularly idle one day in every five. In the clothing trades, one day in every four; in the building trades, one day in every three. "Practically all industries are seasonal," these engineers declare. "There are few trades which do not pass through dull periods at regular intervals. The shoe trade, the textile industries, the steel industry, slaughtering and meat packing, etc., all have regular intervals of slack time as well as those resulting from major industrial depressions."

Greatest Waste in Industry. It is clear that this business of seasonal employment is nothing that can be shrugged away as trivial. The engineers call it the greatest single source of waste in industry. It is not a temporary situation that vanishes with better times. Year after year it goes unabated. When the greatest industries in the country, employing many millions men, show a percentage of idleness as high as 20, 25, sometimes 35 per cent even in the most prosperous years, it is evident that we have got hold of one of the fundamental factors in the industrial dilemma. Wasting one day's output in every

Where you will find it—and why

There are two vital questions every purchaser of a musical instrument should ask before coming to a definite decision:

"What is the standing of the merchant with whom I am dealing as a local institution?"

"What is the standing of the manufacturer whose name the instrument bears as a national institution?"

A satisfactory answer to both should be obtained, irrespective of any other consideration—price, terms, claims or promises. Music for the home is so important a consideration that greatest caution in choosing is demanded.

Real success is rarely won over night. It is not mushroom growth. Our present commanding position is the result of years of hard work and square dealing. We have grown steadily, surely and solidly, from the day 20 years ago when we first opened our doors for business, until today, it has been necessary for us to double our floor space. In addition to our present quarters, we have taken over the entire second floor of the Odd Fellows Building, East Crawford Avenue, where you will find the most complete line of high grade Pianos in the city.

SOME RECORDS IN THINNESS

Platinum Wire, Filament of Sp. de's Web and Soap Bubbles at its Thinnest Spot.

Platinum wire has been drawn so thin that 30,000 pieces of it placed side by side would not cover more than an inch, while 150 pieces, bound together would be necessary to form a thin wire as thick as a filament of raw silk.

A mile of this wire would not weigh more than a grain, while six inches of it would extend from London to New York.

Fine as is the filament produced by the silkworm that produces the spider is even more attenuated. In fact, a thread of a spider's web measured four miles, it would weigh little more than a grain.

As a soap bubble floats in the light of the sun it reflects to the eye an endless variety of gorgeous tints. Newton showed that each of these tints corresponds to a certain thickness of the substance forming the bubble. In fact, he showed that all transparent substances, when reduced to a certain degree of thinness, would reflect the colors.

Now the highest point of the bubble has been reached. It has been shown that a bubble of soap or water, when reduced to a certain degree of thinness, would reflect the colors.

The "Punch" When You Need It

Not just how many miles will it last, but also how will it perform while it's on the job? That's the thing to think about when you're buying a battery.

A battery on which you can rely—a battery which will have the "punch" when you need it—is a mighty good investment.

Decrease in Production Continues But at Less Rapid Rate Than Earlier

At Last Week 6,510 Tons, or Barely Half That of Week Preceding.

MAY BE NEAR THE LIMIT

beyond Which Curtailment Need Not Go, But Operators are Taking No Chances on Sudden Reversal in Demand; Few More Ovens Made Idle.

From The Weekly Courier

An increase in demand for coke not having materialized, the decrease in production continues, but at a less rapid rate than marked the course toward the trough in the curve during the last week in September and the first two weeks in October. During the latter periods production was cut down on an average of 12,000 tons a week. For the week ending last Sunday the decline was 6,510 tons, a trifle more than half that of the preceding week. The added curtailment brought the regional average down to 201,330 tons, or 16,620 tons below the previous low point, recorded in the first week of the year.

While it may be somewhat problematic as to how much deeper the dip will have to be applied in order to completely remove the excessive excess production, it is becoming apparent that the proportionate demand and current supply in the region practically are in balance. The quantity of unconsumed coke is gradually but surely growing smaller. The daily production has reached the point where it is going up of the region practically as fast as it is drawn from the ovens. It is but a question of a short time before the region will be able to supply the demand. It is barely possible that before consumers who have allowed their stocks to become depleted, are aware of it they may find they have not ordered enough to cover the demand and pick up a good lot of coke overnight.

The reduction in output in the week was more largely due to the shortage of the region than to the short-

the effect of blowing out of 1,351 during the week of October 13 extended over into last week, much suspension never operating to immediately lessen production.
While 257 merchant ovens were blown out last week the gain of 236 at furnace plants reduced the net loss to 21 ovens. There were both gains and losses at the merchant plants, 304 ovens, which included all that were in blast at two operations, having been closed down and to blow up at seating plants, making the net loss 257. The H. C. Frick Coke Company made no change in its own list but averaged a comparatively short week out of its plants making four days in two days and three six days.

Although there are certain signs indicating that the necessity to further curtail production will soon be passed the operators are taking no chances that a period of more active demand is likely to develop. In fact, the suspension is to stand ready to take such steps as may be required in the situation may seem to be expectant, whether in the direction of further closing of plants and ovens or in bringing them into service.

The estimated production of coke during the week ending Saturday October 20, was 201,330 tons, credited to the districts as follows: Connellsville, 108,980, a loss of 5,900 tons; Lower Connellsville, 92,350, a loss of 510 tons, or a total loss of 6,410 tons, as compared with a total decrease of 12,550 tons during the immediately preceding week.

The production by districts was:
Furnace, 121,600, a decrease of 3,500 tons; merchant, 79,730, a decrease of 2,910 tons, as compared with decrease of 4,600 and 5,000 tons respectively during the week ended October 13.

There was a net decrease of 21 in the number of ovens in blast, 256 having been fired at independent furnace plants and a net increase of 397 at merchant plants. The change at the latter were in Clarion, 49; Tower Hill No. 1 and 2, six; Ont.
Clara, four; Nalla, 20; Garwood, 119; Lafayette, 80; Lincoln, 50; Puritan No. 6, 71; Garwood and Puritan No. 6 were closed entirely.

Production by the two interests and the total compared with the corresponding week in 1932 is shown here-

Law Applies to Corporations, Too.
The Supreme Court of West Virginia has affirmed the decree of the Circuit Court of Marshall county awarding the Valley Camp Coal Company damages to the extent of $1,010, $1 against the E. M. Weber Company. The latter company made the plea in defending the suit that it was a non-resident corporation and had no representative in Marshall county.
The appeal court in affirming the decision of the circuit court, however, ruled that the law as to non-residents applied to corporations as well as to individuals.

STEEL SITUATION HOLDING UP BETTER THAN WAS EXPECTED

Production About 18 Per Cent Under The Very High Peak Reached In the Month of April.

From The Weekly Courier.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. (The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

The outstanding feature of the steel situation is that it is holding up better than was expected. Production has declined from the top level of last April, but it has declined much more slowly than on many occasions in the past when the turn had been rounded. It is very noteworthy that such heavy deliveries of steel can be made, when buyers of steel have been plainly in conservative mood for several months past.

Production of steel which is the measure of deliveries buyers are willing to accept, is probably about 15 per cent under the peak rate of last April, which was a very high rate, and a higher rate in the generality of other deliveries or buyers expected could be attained. As this season progresses, production seems to decrease less rapidly rather than more rapidly. There are more precedents in steel market history for the latter than for the former.

Finished steel prices are still at the levels reached last April, with the exception of hoops and strips showing some weakness. Tubular goods and wire products are taking care of themselves as there is still a fair if not a good demand.
Bars, shapes and plate are being held by many users.

The iron attitude now is that producers probably are holding without difficulty to the end of the year. It is admitted that a new buying movement could be started more easily if it could be found for dropping prices slightly and then pegging them as firmly at the new level as they stand now at the present level.

Much less evidence than expected has developed of there being large stocks of steel in the hands of buyers. Consumption of steel is remarkably heavy to date and if it continues heavy stocks can hardly be day accumulated.

The iron continues very dull. It has been dull so long with the melting and fairly large amount of iron convertible in action is by no means improbable.

Segregation of the Reading Progresses

After years of litigation first started by the government in September 1919, the segregation of the Reading and coal progress of the Reading Company has been pushed a step further as a result of the special meeting of the stockholders of the company held last week.

At this meeting resolutions were approved dealing with the necessary steps to make the plan operative.
Only formal approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania and the coming up of a new bill to amend any law in the state and then to the state and the railways of the Reading Company will be on separate basis.

As soon as the stockholders approach the 10th chapter of the local progresses of more than 20 years against the railroad of Pennsylvania to separate them from their coal properties. There will remain the placing in operation of the Reading Valley steam and traction plant.

The Toll of Workers In English Mines

Three crushed, but not, drowned or other victims of the coal mine in the average daily of the English mine.

The most recent disaster in the pits occurred on September 25, when 41 miners were killed by a falling rock which struck a group of men near the bottom of the shaft.

The toll of workers in English mines is a sad one. The West Virginia coal miners are a brave and hardy people,

COAL PRODUCTION IS PRACTICALLY WITHOUT CHANGE

Weekly Loadings Held Close to 10,000,000 Tons; Bepko Coke Continues to Decline.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. According to the report of the United States Geological Survey the production of soft coal remained practically unchanged during the second week of October. The total output, including mine fuel, local sales, and coal coled at the mines, was estimated at 10,710,000 tons, an increase of 71,000 tons over the loading figure for the week preceding.

Early reports of coal loadings for the week October 15-20 indicate an appreciable decrease in production, and it seems probable that the total will be between 10,000,000 and 10,500,000 tons.

During the first 432 working days of 1934 the production was 11,946,000 tons, an increase of 228,800 tons from 1933. The total for 1934 is estimated at 12,100,000 tons.

The trend of the coal production continues to be downward. The total output in the week ended October 13 is now estimated at 10,710,000 tons, a net 11,400 tons less than the week before.

The principal factor contributing to the decline was a decrease of 25,000 tons in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Production in the Connellsville region as reported by the Courier decreased from 220,000 to 207,810 tons. The Courier further states that there was a reduction of 1,361 in the number of active mines.

Cumulative production during 1934 to date stands at 15,099,000 tons, in comparison with the average for 1933 of 15,000,000 tons. This is an increase of 99,000 tons, or 0.66 percent, over the 1933 total.

The production by states, compared with the corresponding week of 1933, was as follows:

	1933	1934
Pennsylvania and Ohio	11,000	11,000
West Virginia	10,000	10,000
Alabama, Kentucky, Louisiana and Texas	10,000	10,000
Illinois	10,000	10,000
Michigan and New Mexico	10,000	10,000
Washington and Utah	10,000	10,000
U. S. Total	10,000	10,000

Do you know why it is that you get a quick relief from hemorrhoids?
Do you know the cause of piles is internal?
That there is a circulation of blood in the lower bow?
Do you know that there is a hemorrhois fundus, discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as the fundus, which is the cause of piles?
From this fundus the blood is drawn, and the cause of the hemorrhoids is the result of the blood being drawn from the fundus.

RED CROSS PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

Over $2,000,000 in Fund for War Sufferers—National Budget is $5,543,077.

AID TO VETERANS STANDS FIRST

Expended $9,738,448 in Services to Mankind Last Year at Home and Abroad.

Washington.—With a budget of $5,543,077.31 for carrying out the program of service during the current fiscal year, beginning July 1, the American Red Cross announces that this amount was $4,195,370.41 less than was expended during the fiscal year ended last June 30. During that year expenditures reached a total of $9,738,448.22, of which amount $2,000,000 was devoted to relief of refugees in Greece who had been driven out of Asia Minor. In announcing the budget for the year, the statement from National Headquarters emphasized the fact that its extensive work at home and abroad depends almost wholly upon the nation-wide support of the organization through enrollment of membership in large numbers during the annual roll call, which will be in progress from November 1 to November 29 under the auspices of the 3,600 Chapters in the United States and throughout the world. Those Chapters, it is pointed out, during the last fiscal year expended of their own funds approximately $3,520,000 in work for the men who were the United States uniform during the World War, so that the estimate of some $15,000,000 expended during twelve months by the American Red Cross as a whole is considered conservative.

Soldier Service Stands First
From July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1923, the American Red Cross spent nationally and through its Chapters close to $144,000,000 in behalf of American soldiers who served in the war and their families. During last year the figure alone amounted to more than $3,566,255, and for the current fiscal year National Headquarters has set aside under the heading, "Assistance to Disabled ex-Servicemen and Women," $2,005,934.25. The Chapters will continue to do their part, so that it may be predicted with confidence that again more than $5,500,000 will be disbursed in the large variety of services to the disabled men and women and their families—services for which the Government cannot provide and which reach the individual case with the sympathy and understanding only actual contact can insure. This work of the American Red Cross approaches the fifth anniversary of the Armistice, which ended the World War with only slight decrease in calls for service in the interest of the welfare and rehabilitation of those who suffered physical disability in the service of their country.

In the interest of the enlisted men serving in the Army and the Navy the budget provides $399,929 for the current year. This is obligatory under the Red Cross charter, for the organization must act in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people and their Army and Navy.

Domestic Program Extensive
The domestic operations of the American Red Cross comprise an accurate indicator of the continuing calls for expansion in all the established and authorized services. The budget aggregates $4,038,149.70, as against expenditures during the last year of $4,452,066.30. The abnormal demands in the foreign field in the last several years, however, have largely subsided, and in consequence $908,623.11 has been set for the 1923-24 budget under foreign operations. On this amount $394,803.51 is set aside for engagements which will close the work for the refugees in Greece, for whose amelioration $2,005,596.09 was expended up to June 30, when the American Red Cross withdrew, and the work was taken over under the control of the Greek government. For liquidation and completion of general relief in Europe the budget provides $100,000, and for American Junior Red Cross projects, foreign and insular, and assistance to Chapters listed under foreign operations.

Ready for Emergency Calls
The readiness of the American Red Cross to answer immediately with effective service in cases of emergency is an outstanding feature of its program that is universally recognized. During last year $525,000 was spent for relief in 110 disasters, which was $207,500 in excess of budget provisions. This year $400,000 has been appropriated for this service. Since 1911 the Red Cross has administered more than $20,000,000 in relief work following disasters.

Other budget items in the schedule for domestic operations include $1,282,524.20 for service and assistance to the 3,600 Chapters and their branches; $30,000 for assistance to other organizations, particularly stressing child health activities; $194,600 for Junior Red Cross projects and service; $10,324.20 for assistance to Nurses' Training Schools, and for other activities $111,460.50. For supervision of service activities and general management of the entire American Red Cross less than $225,000 is allotted.

Uncle Jasper.
"Proverbs ain't always correct," began Uncle Jasper. "I'll cite you a case. Some years ago I was childless. I decided to add to his collection of moccasins and leathers from many parts of the world, but he wanted more. He wanted more from the Urala, from the Arctic circle, from the tip end of Patagonia. He was ready to pay a good salary. And who did he employ to gather this moss? A rolling stone."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Tania drove these ailments right out, put me to eating, sleeping and feeling fine, and I now call myself a well man."

Cokers Rest Today; Ready For Game With McKeesport High School Team Tomorrow

Blackboard Drill Planned for This Afternoon by Coach Lerew.

LINE-UP NOT GIVEN OUT

High School cokers will get a rest this evening. The boys have worked hard every evening this week and Coach Lerew said last evening he would only detain them this afternoon after school for a blackboard drill.

The team is ready for its game with McKeesport on Saturday. Just what is to be expected from the Tubers is an uncertainty. Little is known here concerning the outfit but regardless of that the Cokers have worked with consistency.

There was no scrimmage yesterday. This was in order to save the boys who are suffering from bumps and bruises. Signal drill was worked in addition to punting and drop kicking.

A visitor at the field, who has not seen the team for several weeks, was greatly impressed by the improvement in the Coker eleven. "It doesn't look like the same team," he said.

Who will start Saturday's game has not been announced and it is a problem that only Coach Lerew can solve. He has so many boys, all about equal in rank, to select from that he also is facing a hard proposition to pick the starters. Next week will see these youths plunge into the game with all their vim again to try and cop a regular berth.

The Daily Frater the Bowling League will not roll on Tuesday next week. Because of a dance the club is holding on that date the rolling matches will be on some other date, yet to be announced.

Kansas City triumphed over the Baltimore Orioles in the fifth world series which ended yesterday at Baltimore. It was the ninth and deciding game. The score was 5-2.

BIG FOOTBALL NEED IS LOVE FOR SPORT

Genuine Likings for Game Is Most Necessary Quality.

A genuine liking for football is a most necessary quality if a player hopes to be a star, writes Aubrey Devine of Iowa in the Chicago Evening Post. True, some football players reach stardom who are not crazy about the strenuous game. Unusual natural ability makes it possible. However, such players would be of far greater value to their team if they really liked the sport.

With the liking for the game goes the determination or will to do. Some will call it nerve, others will use the trite vulgar yet very appropriate word, "guts."

Success in college football rests upon the same broad foundation as does success in any other line of endeavor. If a man does not enjoy playing football for its own sake and is not possessed of the will power to perfect himself in the game to the very limit of his capacity to do so, he can no more expect to reap the rewards of a successful football career than he could expect to be successful in any other line of work in which he might engage in a half-hearted manner. In other words, he must be willing to pay the price.

Finally, to sum it all up in answer to the question, "Why high school stars do not make good in college," we may say that some never were stars while

Aubrey Devine, other real stars lose their athletic ability before they get to college, either because they were "burned out" in high school by too much work, or because they are just naturally athletic in their teens and "old men" in their twenties.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists call it "Joint-Ease" because it's for swollen, sore, painful, creaky joints only.

To look a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents designed to be the remedy that all ages, usually generously through skin and each starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

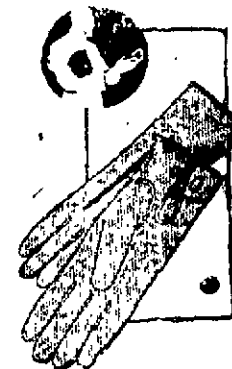

Of course it can't help but quickly put an end to even the most stubborn as lameness, neuritis, arthritis, aching muscles, stiff in the side, crick in the neck or sore fast, because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease" You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a really remarkable and when it goes under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

Smallville Drug Company and Union Drug Company dispense it daily for about 50 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

In brief, granting that the high school star has the potentialities requisite for him to make the variety, he must devote his undivided attention to a two-part curriculum of studies and football, at least during the football season, if he would continue his high school success in football as through his college career.

Recovery From Disturbance of Calamity Tests Relief Services of Red Cross

SAVING PROPERTY ON THE EDGE OF A GREAT FIRE WHILE THE INJURED AND HOMELESS RED CROSS WORKERS SPRAY

Washington — "Japan's earthquake calamity with its toll of 107,000 dead, 125,000 injured, 235,000 missing and more than 2,000,000 homeless, will affect the equilibrium of the people of the empire for a long period," says Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross. "The after effect of disaster is far-reaching in its disturbing influence which persons at a distance cannot visualize, however deeply they are moved to sympathetic action by first reports of extensive loss of life and property."

The magnitude of America's relief was two-fold for Japan's relief was characteristic of our people and it serves to point out the lesson learned by the Disaster Relief Service of the Red Cross that the first estimates of destruction generally are on the side of conservatism.

As an example of the long period of recovery which follows disaster Judge Payne cited the forest fires in Minnesota. Many of the persons injured and impoverished in October, 1918, are receiving relief from the Red Cross Chapter at Duluth today—four years after that disaster. The operations undertaken by the Red Cross to rescue and relieve the victims in this instance also had a happy anti-bullying result. As these activities led to the establishment of the Forest Fire Commission by Minnesota empowered to protect the State's great forest reserves.

The 110 disasters in the United States during the year ended June 30 according to the annual report of the American Red Cross, resulted in 240 deaths, 291 persons injured, and property losses estimated at $20,770,000. The record shows nearly every section of the country had its disaster, from Maine to California, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

The victims sheltered, fed and clothed by the Red Cross numbered nearly 20,000. In the recent $10,000,000 fire which destroyed a large part of the residential section of Berkeley Cal., pictured above, a timely emergency service was given by hundreds of University of California students who were quickly organized by Red Cross workers into safety battalions and did much to minimize loss of property and human suffering.

Disaster relief will ever be a prominent duty of the American Red Cross. Judge Payne spoke out for calamity survivors. "They are waiting, and the Red Cross is anxious to meet the test of readiness for immediate relief on actions where the call for services arises."

"The American Red Cross is the outward expression of the heart of the American people," says Judge Payne, who expresses confidence in the success of the membership Roll Call opening Armistice Day, November 11, and bespeaks his belief that the Red Cross would in this year's campaign maintain its numerical strength and recruit many thousands of new members among persons who had come to realize through recent world-wide calamity that the Red Cross must carry on in peace time as promptly and effectively as in time of war.

Conference Between Governor and Hard Coal Men Postponed

HARRISBURG Oct. 23—Governor Plafiot today postponed the scheduled conference with anthracite operators on ways and means of reducing coal prices until a date mutually agreeable can be arranged.

Samuel D. Warriner wired the governor that he was unable to accept the invitation to meet him here tomorrow with the policy committee of the mine owners due to other engagements. It had been agreed that the conference would be resumed this week but Plafiot said that would be impossible now as he has a number of speeches to deliver.

An enterprising hand-dasher in Germany has put his knowledge of the clothes to excellent use in his advertising. Here are a few specimens.

Even Marketh could sleep in our nightgowns. It had been agreed that the conference would be resumed this week but Plafiot said that would be impossible now as he has a number of speeches to deliver.

"Had Lot's wife panned our windows she would have stopped to look no matter what the consequences."

"We made Apollo's shirts."

"Dead-enders would never have been careless about their handkerchiefs had it been one of ours. They are too busy to lose them."

Usually the Way
Well, Bobby, said the minister to the small son of one of his disciples, what is the news?

"Dad's got a new set of false teeth," said the minister, "and what will he do with the old set?"

"Oh I suppose," replied Bobby, "he'll cut 'em down and make me wear 'em."

With His Face Full of Smiles Our Coat and Dress Buyer Returns From New York With What He Considers THE BUY OF THE YEAR! IN 547 WINTER COATS and DRESSES!

Just One of the Reasons
Why Our Buyer
Was So Delighted With Himself!

We all know that until the last week the weather has been very unseasonable. The New York manufacturers of Coats and Dresses had not been doing any business and were just loaded to the neck. Our New York office wired us to come at once as the values in the market were amazing. Our buyer spent a week in the East and when he returned he told us that he had never seen anything like it. The manufacturers were hungry for money, and there was no limit to the loss they took on new Winter Coats and Dresses. Just imagine at this time to buy at 1-8 and 1-2 off. This is your opportunity for tomorrow!

On Sale Tomorrow

Offered at a price that would cause a flurry even at the end of the season. Purchased from makers who willingly took a loss to clear their surplus stocks.

We are not printing the prices at which these coats would ordinarily sell. It would be useless unless you actually see the FINE HIGH-PRICED MATERIALS that are used in these coats and dresses, unless you see the expensive fur collars and cuffs, unless you see the handsome silk linings- and the expert character of the tailoring—unless you SEE THEM you would never DREAM that any store could offer them at such a price.

Blank amazement will be the first emotion to register on women's faces when they see what wonderful garments are being offered. Even our salespeople, who are accustomed to the sensational purchases of the past, are greatly surprised to see high grade garments at such low prices.
